

Department of Chemical Engineering

Research Group Manager

Job Description:

Managing a large research group of the Department's staff. Running the lab, incl. experimental system operation and maintenance, directing procurement and new equipment installation, managing research funds; leading research projects and running independent research.

Supporting undergrad and grad students performing lab research; writing research proposals, scientific papers and reports. Responsibility for lab safety.

Working with diverse third parties inside and outside the Technion.

Requirements:

MSc or higher degree from chemical eng., chemistry, mat. eng., environmental eng., mechanical eng., biotech & food eng., aeronautics.

PhD – significant advantage.

Excellent Hebrew and English oral and written proficiency.

Experience in experimental lab work.

Advantageous background: electrochemistry, catalysis, polymers, organic chemistry, energy.

Management skills, leader personality; great interpersonal relations, and working in a diverse, multinational, multicultural team of researchers.

Job is temporary. Job extent: 100%.

please send your resume to: <http://bit.ly/2YGsd1W>