

Chemical process team member- student Position

For a company that develops a unique (IP-protected) transformative medical device gas technology, looking for a product/process technical support team member

Description and Responsibilities

1. Technical support in system development, a unique process including the preparation of test protocols and experiments
2. Assist in writing technical documents in English.
3. Direct communication with the development team (Russian speaking) and transfer of technical information to engineering documents
3. The job can be done remotely and on flexible hours

Position Requirements

1. Chemical engineering/Chemical student (PhD., 1st degree)
2. Language: Russia-Native speaker level -a must. English-writing level-excellent
3. Location: Israel
4. The position is for female/male submit an application to:itz@innohale.com

- Confidential -